Color The MINT,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., March 24, 1885.

I have your communication of the 21 st instant in regard to b. F. braselmire's bid and the Earne spondence in relation thereto. I have no desire to hold Mr. broselmire to an offer made under a mistake as to the facts, but if a contract has been executed, I have no legal power to release him! However, the Solicitor of the Treasury is of the opinion that, as Section 3503 of the Revised Statutes places the supervision of the business of the mint under the superintendent subject to the approval of the Director of the Mint, the contract was not fully executed until his bid had received my approval, and therefore Mr. Croselmire had, prior to such approval, the legal right to withdraw his offer. I think it has not been the practice at your Wint to submit your action in the sale of sweeps formally to my Office for approval, although that has been usually done at San Francisco. The provision in regard to the sale of sweeps in the Regulations, page 15, seems to imply that the superintendents should make such sales, and I was of the opinion that the contract was somplete without my approval. But under the circumstances, and in view of the opinion of the Solicitor, Sapprove of your acceptance of the bid of A. W. Speer my bo; and Mr. broselmire may be considered as RG104 E-1 Box 133 having withdrawn his offer before its final acceptance by my approval.

Nery respectfully,

Hornhoe Bruchord Director Adoudon Answer, Esq., Supt Mint, Philadelphia.

Mashington De March 24 2/885 Burchard Swreferme & the Contract, Je Floroselmen for Perceps

[Abstract:] In reference to the contracts of C.F. Croselmire for sweeps.

* (Copies) See also telegram 3/20 – on file

Treasury Department, Bureau of the Mint, Washington, D.C., March 24, 1885

Sir:

I have your communication of the 21st instant in regard to C.F. Croselmire's bid and the * correspondence in relation thereto.

I have no desire to hold Mr. Croselmire to an offer made under a mistake as to the facts, but if a contract has been executed, I have no legal power to release him. However, the Solicitor of the Treasury is of the opinion that, as Section 3503 of the Revised Statutes places the supervision of the business of the Mint under the superintendent subject to the approval of the Director of the Mint, the contract was not fully executed until his bid had received my approval, and therefore Mr. Croselmire had, prior to such approval, the legal right to with draw his offer.

I think it has not been the practice at your Mint to submit your action in the sale of sweeps formally to my Office for approval, although that has been usually done at San Francisco. The provision in regard to the sale of sweeps in the Regulations, page 15, seems to imply that the superintendents should make such sales, and I was of the opinion that the contract was complete without my approval. But under the circumstances, and in view of the opinion of the Solicitor, I approve of your acceptance of the bid of A.W. Speer and Co., and Mr. Croselmire may be considered as having withdrawn his offer before its final acceptance by my approval.

Very respectfully, Horatio C. Burchard Director

A. Loudon Snowden, Esq., Supt. Mint, Philadelphia.